THE SCARE OVER.

YELLOW JACK RAPIDLY LOSING HIS GRIP IN THE SOUTH.

QUARANTINES BEING LIFTED AT NUMEROUS POINTS.

Jacksonville Has the Usual Number of New Cases and Deaths, but the Outlook is Much Improved—People Everywhere Recovering From Their Sore. No Danger That the Scourge Will Spread.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 29.—The situation here is slowly growing brighter, and reports received from other points are very encouraging. Ellaville's three cases proved to be a hoax; there are now only three cases at McClemy and one death reported.

The official bulletin for twenty-four hours ending at 6 p. m. Thursday, showed: New cases, 131; deaths, 8; case to date, 2,338; deaths to date, 237. Of the 131 new cases thirty nine were white and ninety-two colored.

Great indignation is felt here by the authorities against several prominent physicians who persistently call the cases of fever among their private patients by other names, thus preventing the making of perfect statistics.

The Knights Templar have decided not to erect the hospital they had in contemplation but take $3,000 collected and distribute it in private charities.

The situation at Fernandina is bad. The operator is ill and consequently nothing can be heard from there.

The total contributions received Thursday amounted to $11,443.

A Railroad Protest.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—General Manager Gault, of the Queen & Crescent railroad, telegraphed the postmaster general from Cincinnati, protesting against the quarantine obstruction of their line at Meridian, Miss., and other points, which, he says, prevents his company from handling their trains and carrying the United States mails. There is no epidemic, he says, at Meridian, nor is there any along their lines, where mola law seems to prevail. He asked the protection and aid of the United States marshals so that they could resume the running of trains. A reply was sent that the department did not care to attempt to force the mails through in opposition to state quarantine laws.

Yellow Fever on Shipboard.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—The minister of the United States at Port au Prince reports to the department of state, on the 18th inst., that four deaths from yellow fever have occurred on the French sailing vessel, Providence, lying in that port, three on a German vessel, and two on the British brig Goolvia, at Gonaves. In the city of Port au Prince, itself, there are believed to be at most only two or three isolated cases of the fever.

Effects of the World Quarantine.

COFFEVILLE, Miss., Sept. 29.—Dr. H. A. Grant, health officer of the county, examined the body of a child named Winborn Cargill, and is of the opinion that it did not have yellow fever. Many families have left and it is thought the town will soon be deserted. Four days ago Coffeville established a quarantine against the world and refused to allow provision trains to pass.

Memphis Practically Open to the World. MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 29.—The board of health has lifted all quarantine restrictions in this city except those against infected districts. The military pickets have been withdrawn, and Memphis is now practically open to the world. Through trains on all roads will resume running to-day. Interior towns are expected to follow the example of Memphis.

At Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 29.—The yellow fever scare here has largely abated with the outlook for frosty weather.

Benjamin Grant, the refugee who had the fever for several days, had the black vomit Thursday night. It is thought, however, that he will recover.

Under Prescribed Conditions.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 29.—Many of the towns in Mississippi have modified their quarantine restrictions so as to allow railroads to run their trains under prescribed conditions. Baton Rouge, Meridian, Vicksburg and Shreveport will allow freight only to enter.

Quarantine Removed.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 29.—The state board of health has modified its quarantine restrictions so that refugees from infected points will now be allowed to enter Tennessee if they will go direct to the elevated plateaus and mountain regions of the state.

Suffering for Necessaries.

ORANGE PARK, Fla., Sept. 29.—The people here are suffering for the necessities of life. There has been no fever here, but being so close to Jacksonville, it was so rigidly quarantined that nothing has been allowed to come in.

The Alarm Over at Decatur.

DECATUR, Ala., Sept. 29.—Three new cases developed Thursday and one death. A number of cases are reported as existing in small towns in this vicinity, but the alarm is about over.

Huntsville Very Precarious.

HUNTSVILLE, Ala., Sept. 29.—A Decatur refugee was taken down Thursday, and immediately removed two miles from town.

Even Supply Trains Kept Out.

JACKSON, Miss., Sept. 29.—The shotgun quarantine is so strictly enforced here that even supply trains are not allowed to enter.

THE GASOLINE CURE.

A Detroit Chemist Ridicules the Theory Advanced by Edison. DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 29.—A leading physician and chemist, speaking of Edison's alleged discovery about an exterminator of yellow fever germs, said:

"Edison's discovery is based on the theory that the fever is caused by a microbe or germ. This has been accepted by some investigators, but never received by the profession as even a tentative theory. Assuming, however, that Edison has some occult means of proving it to depend on a microbe, his methods are inadequate to its destruction."

"His germicides, rhigolene and caustic soda, are infinitely inferior to many germicides in use. The problem of killing the germs when shown to exist and circumscribed in location is simple to the merest try in pathology, but to apply gasoline to the total destruction of innumerable myriads of infinitesimal, hypothetical microbes is absurd. When we consider that a glass of water or a banana may contain many times the number of germs that there are inhabitants of Jacksonville and that, if the germs exist, they are generally distributed upon what is eaten, drunk and worn, its mode of application is puzzling."

THE PLANETS RESPONSIBLE.

Wiggins' Opinion as to the Cause of the Yellow Fever Scourge. OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 29.—Professor Wiggins, in an interview, said that the cause of the yellow fever in the south was purely astronomical. On June 19, 1851, he said, the planets were in the same line, and the earth had yielded to the tendency to approach the sun, and since then cyclones, earthquakes, floods, cholera and yellow fever had devastated our planet.

The advance had been only a few miles, but increased solar attractions contracted the earth's surface, causing floods. The unequal shrinkage caused earthquakes. The atmosphere had become denser, and consequently held more carbon and its compounds solution, producing microbes, and thus cholera and yellow fever. Several planets were in perihelion at the same time in the years 542 and 1665, and millions of people then perished by the plague and black death.

All the planets, the professor added, were passing through the same severe ordeal. Mars had an atmosphere so dense and full of clouds that only portions of its surface could be seen. But the people there had no yellow fever, and if they had such a place as Florida they would so cultivate it that it could not breed yellow fever. He believed that the numerous canals on Mars' surface were made to absorb the carbon and prevent disease.

STARVING INDIANS.

Numerous Cases of Cannibalism Reported From the Far North.

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 29.—A terrible tale of starvation and destitution among the Indians comes from the far north, being at Athabasca, in the Peace River country. Owing to the great mortality of beaver and other small game, the Indians both last winter and summer have been in a perpetual state of starvation. Both the food supply of the Indians and their power of procuring clothing have been affected. They are now in a complete state of destitution and unable to provide themselves with clothing, ammunition, etc., for the winter. The above scarcity has greatly decreased the number of their dogs, necessary to the Indian for traveling and hunting, which have perished, thus seriously increasing the difficulty of obtaining a livelihood.

At Lake Athabasca and some other lakes a great failure of fall and winter fisheries during the winter of 1886-87, between the Peace and Athabasca rivers, on account of the starvation and consequent cannibalism a party of twenty-nine Cree Indians was reduced to three. In the Mackenzie river district there were several cases of death by starvation and one or more of cannibalism. During last winter among the Fort Chipewyan Indians, between twenty and thirty starved to death, and the death of others was accelerated by the want of food. A party of about twenty Beavers had been conveyed from Grand Prairie, near Dunvegan, Peace river, to Lesser Slave lake, to prevent their starving to death. Some of them died after arriving there.

Many other Indians—Crees, Beavers and Chipewyans—at almost all points where there are missions or trading posts, would certainly have been starved to death but for the help furnished by the traders and missionaries at those places, furnished very often at great personal inconvenience. Scores of families having lost their heads, are now perfectly helpless, and must starve to death or eat one another unless help comes.

General Schofield's Daughter Married.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—The marriage of Miss Mary Campbell Schofield, the only daughter of Maj. Gen. Schofield, to Lieut. Avery Delano Andrews took place yesterday evening at the chapel of St. Cornelius, on Governor's Island. The occasion was a brilliant one, Rev. Morgan Dix officiated. Gen. Schofield gave the bride away. Her costume was white corded silk with pearl passementerie and lace. Miss Georgie Kilburn, of Iowa, was maid of honor. There were a number of bridesmaids. Lieut. William P. Darrois, of the Fourth artillery, was best man. After the ceremony a reception was held at the general's residence.

Perilous Bridal Journey.

NORTH EASTON, Mass., Sept. 29.—Professor James K. Allen, who made a balloon ascension from the fair grounds at Providence Thursday afternoon, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Davis, who were married in the basket just before the ascension was made, landed in a cedar swamp in Easton about 9 o'clock. The balloon dragged across the swamp for nearly two miles, the party being obliged to cling to the ropes above the basket to keep out of the water. They were finally rescued by the drag rope being caught and made fast to a tree.

Three Deaths in a Political Row.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—Last night Steve Neal and Billy Harrington, two of "Boss" Buckley's gang, entered the Republican county committee rooms and demanded that their contest of vote in a certain precinct be recorded. Martin Kelley, who was in charge, asked what they had to do with it. Harrington at once opened fire. Kelley and Neal also drew revolvers. The fusillade was continued until Neal and Kelley and Anton Christensen were mortally wounded. A looker-on named Donahue was shot dead. Harrington was also dangerously wounded.

A CHICAGO WHEAT DEAL

IN WHICH "OLD HUTCH" MAKES OVER $1,500,000.

He Secures a Corner and Refuses to Sell Until $1.25 is Reached, When He Unloads—The Price Advanced to $1.50 Friday—The Deal is Not Yet.

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—September wheat rushed up to $1.25 Thursday as the result of a well planned deal engineered by B. F. Hutchinson, of this city, better known as "Old Hutch."

His profits have already reached $1,500,000, and may go to $2,000,000 before the shorts get desperate and bid $1.25 in vain until "Old Hutch," who owned nearly all the September wheat, magnanimously declined to accept a higher figure. So he gave out that he had wheat to sell.

The shorts who had 5,000 or 10,000 or 25,000 bushels lots to cover formed in line as though they were at the box office of a theater, and as they filed past the old man as he sat by the pillar at the foot of the gallery steps, Johnny Brine, his broker, sold the coveted cereal. Counselman & Day bought 115,000 bushels, and Baldwin & Farnham 100,000. Hutchinson's total sales being 530,000 bushels.

"Hutch" said the millers would pay $1.25 for the wheat for grinding, and he thought he might as well get that price for it. A short who, on the plea that he was buying wheat for a poor widow, and who wanted to settle at $1.24, was told: "Can't afford it. I've got to pay interest, insurance, etc., and I've got to make expenses. I'm sorry for the poor widow just the same." Then turning to a poor broker who had been bantering him, "Hutch" said: "Think it high, do you? I'll just bet you $500 it sells at $2 Saturday."

September closed at $1.25, this being the figure set by Hutchinson, there being no telling where it would have gone but for his restraining hand. The trading was not done in the wheat pit, but around the pillar where Hutchinson sat. His wheat, which he had been quietly buying for some time past, had cost from eighty-five to ninety-seven cents, and therefore netted him an enormous profit. No one knows how much he holds yet, but he still has September wheat for sale and will buy all that is offered at $1.24. It is thought he will repeat the deal next month on December wheat.

This deal, unlike that of Harper's in 1897, has been carried on without the purchase of any extraordinary amount of wheat. There are less than 3,000,000 bushels of contract wheat now in the city, and there is no prospect of an increase in the trickling stream. When the Harper deal collapsed there were 18,000,000 bushels in the city and more pointing this way.

The short interest is supposed to be mainly outside of Chicago, much on New York, English and foreign accounts. Hutchinson was careful to avert a panic and consequent failures by preventing the market from rising beyond $1.25. He paid cash for his wheat and took pains to avoid any violation of the Illinois statutes against "corners."

"Old Hutch" has been a sharp trader of rather unsavory reputation for a number of years. It has not been very long since he was suspended on "Charge for ninety days for trading after hours. He is owner of the Corn Exchange bank and enormously wealthy.

It Reaches $1.50.

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—The inevitable calm after the storm Thursday prevailed in the wheat pit this morning. Up stairs in the visitors' gallery men and women had picked themselves like sardines in anticipation of a renewal of Thursday's excitement. Down stairs "Old Hutch," with the collar of his overcoat buttoned around his ears, sat in an arm chair and smiled grimly on the army of brokers that surrounded him, and wanted to know when he was going to let up.

"I have no wheat for sale," he said to a representative of the United Press, "and I don't know what the price is or will be. I may have some on tap between 12 and 1 o'clock."

That was all—the satisfaction the shorts could get. Cash wheat opened at $1.25, Thursday night's closing price, then went in jumps to $1.30, $1.40, $1.41, $1.45, and finally at 12:00 to $1.50. The trades, however, were small. Five thousand bushels of September were sold at $1.50 by Lindbloom to one of Hutchinson's brokers, Lindbloom having paid a dollar for it less than a week ago. After this sale the price receded to $1.49. December opened ninety-eight and three-quarter, reached $1.00 1-2 and receded to ninety-nine and three-eighths. A broker close in the confidence of "Old Hutch" said that the present price of September wheat was not a circumstance to what May and December would be before long.

SENSATION AT A FUNERAL.

A Priest Orders Protestants From a Catholic Cemetery.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Sept. 29.—An unusual incident occurred Tuesday, at the village of Hardinsburg, Ky., in the Catholic burying ground. While the remains of Mr. Frank Brown, an old and respected citizen, were being interred, the officiating priest, Father Creary, ordered all Protestants to withdraw from the burying ground, with no other explanation than that the graveyard belonged to and was consecrated by the Catholics. The Protestants immediately withdrew, but the affair created quite a commotion in the little community, and was readily condemned by several of the leading Catholics of the parish.

The priest, who had only been in charge of the church at Hardinsburg about one week, is now being accused of either being intoxicated at the time or of unsound mind. For fifty years the Catholics and Protestants of this place have dwelt together in harmony and good feeling, and Father Creary's congregation naturally feel much humiliated over the incident, which will be promptly investigated by the bishop. Another phase to the matter is that recently there has been going on a very acrimonious discussion in an adjoining county between a Protestant and Catholic minister regarding the tenets and practices of the Romish church, and this might have influenced the apparent ill feeling of Father Creary.

PRAIRIE FIRES.

Reports Coming in From Various Parts of Dakota—Other Fires.

JAMESTOWN, Dak., Sept. 29.—Reports of prairie fire losses are coming in from every direction, and the worst fears will be more than realized. Between Jamestown and La more a strip of country fifty miles wide was burned over. Among the latest losses reported the losses are: W. B. S. Trindle, 2,000 bushels of wheat; a farmer named Warren, near Ypsilanti, 400 acres of wheat in shock; hundreds of small farmers sustained losses ranging from $100 to $1,000. Nearly all the hay in the south part of Barnes county was destroyed and the same may also be said of wheat. Near Montpelier names of a dozen have been heard whose wheat escaped August's frost only to burn up in September's fire.

Two Workmen Burned to Death.

CHICAGO, Sept. 29.—The large furniture warehouse of Wilkinson & Company, at Nos. 15 and 17 Lake street, took fire at 9:15 a. m., and will be a total loss.

It was at first thought that all had escaped, but subsequently it was found that five persons were missing. The bodies of two of these have already been recovered from the debris, and it is believed that three more are still there. Wilkinson & Company lose $60,000 on stock. Insurance $40,000.

A HUGE SWINDLE.

The Produce Exchange of New York Victimized to the Extent of $160,000.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Great excitement prevails among the members of the Produce exchange over the discovery that the gratuity fund has been victimized to the extent of $160,000 on thirteen forged mortgages, purporting to be liens on city property. The fund aggregates $1,000,000, for the most part invested in bonds and mortgages.

It is stated that William R. Foster, Jr., attorney for the fund, has not been seen since Tuesday. Pinkerton detectives are said to be hunting for him.

Foster is a brother of James P. Foster, president of the National League of Republican clubs.

Mr. Foster is about forty years old and unmarried. He lived expensively, but not beyond the income which he received. His father is wealthy, and lives on Staten Island.

No one seems to know who will be responsible for the loss on the forged papers, as no bonds were required of Foster.

A USURPER FIRED.

The Illegally Elected Governor of the Chickasaw Quoted from Office.

DOUGHERTY, Tex., Sept. 29.—Governor Guy, backed by an armed force, Thursday marched into Tishomingo, the Chickasaw capital in the Indian Territory, and took his seat. Governor Guy was legally elected by the tribe but was counted out by the Byrd party and Byrd took the seat of governor, but he could not expect to be recognized by the United States or by the Guy party.

Byrd was so dumfounded when he recognized Governor Guy at the head of his men marching to the capital that he was unable to speak for several minutes. There was no trouble, but it is expected at any time, and Governor Guy will do all in his power to prevent it. As soon as the Byrd men are aware of the change in governorship but times are expected. It was rumored that government troops will be held in readiness to move to the capital at a minute's notice.

Sporting News.

It is said that Collins, of Louisville, will be given to Cincinnati in exchange for McPhee.

The New York Illustrated News has deposited $5,000 to cover Kilrain's stakes to meet an unknown under London prize rules.

The Lafayette, Ind., gun club held the second meeting of its autumn tournament Thursday. The matches were pretty and closely contested.

Steve Brodie, who went to Poughkeepsie, N. Y., to arrange with Scanlon for his jump from the Poughkeepsie railroad bridge on a bet of $300, returned unable to find Scanlon.

A Blow at Iowa Liquor Sellers.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Sept. 29.—Judge Given, of the district court, struck another blow at the liquor sellers of Iowa. The prohibitory law has been evaded in many counties by sellers who have claimed to be agents of Chicago men and to be selling liquor in original packages, and several cases against such dealers are in the courts. Judge Given has decided in such a case that the right to bring liquors into the state does not carry the right to sell indiscriminately, and that the original package must be defaced by the package of the distiller with the government stamp attached, and cannot be construed to mean packages put up by dealers with the express intention of evading the laws of the state.

Gas Leak and Lamp Combination.

ROCKFORD, Ill., Sept. 29.—Thursday evening while looking about his father's house for a leak in the gas pipes, Frank Bertrund was badly injured by an explosion, which ensued when he went into the room with a lamp. Large plate glass windows were blown out and much damage was done by fire.

The Annexation Scheme.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—Mr. Sherman in the senate Thursday reported back without recommendation from the committee on foreign relations his resolution to inquire into the relations between the United States and Great Britain and the Dominion of Canada. It was placed on the calendar.

Tester and Mrs. Erkenweiller Guilty.

WAKARUSA, O., Sept. 29.—The case against John Tester and Barbara Erkenweiller was argued until 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon, when the court gave his charge to the jury. In about two hours the jury brought in a verdict of guilty.

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

SATURDAY EVE., SEPT. 29 1888.

Prohibition was voted at Hillsboro, O., some months ago, and now the council there has been petitioned to repeal the ordinance on the ground that "it is a complete failure."

The Labor Signal, of Indianapolis, says Indiana will give Cleveland and Thurman 10,000 majority. News from other sources tend to corroborate the Signal. That majority will be sufficient, but the larger the better.

The Republicans of Ohio are getting desperate. One of their latest campaign dodges is the distribution of the Democratic Advance, which is a Republican sheet in all but name. Democrats of Brown County should be on their guard.

THE story is going the rounds that Patrick Ford, editor of the Irish World, has received enough of the Republican campaign funds to pay for 10,000 copies of his paper, and he is now making a free distribution all over the country. Several copies have been coming to this postoffice.—Exchange.

Two copies of the World has been sent to this office every week of late. Ford has evidently sold himself and his paper to the Republicans and is doing all he can to hand over the Irish voters to Harrison. The scheme will not work.

"I go to my work with no courage, no hope. I am going out to use what I know to be sophistries, pure and simple. The Democratic platform is framed in the interest of good government and of the people. The position of the Republican party to-day is humiliating to every intelligent man in it. They know their party is wrong, and yet loyalty to party holds them up in support of wrong, when their manhood urges them the other way."

The above was uttered by a prominent Republican of Buffalo, N. Y. He is one of the prominent speakers of the campaign in that State. His words are true. He knows that his party is seeking to win on the false cry of "free trade," and that its position on the tariff question is humiliating to the greater portion of its members.

It looks to me at this moment as if the Irish were uncertain and flabby at the last minute to vote the Democratic ticket, while the Germans who were disposed to go for Harrison have been drawn into the campaign of Hill, and the Americans, meantime, are divided nearly equally. Out of this condition of things he who can elpher a Republican victory is happy in temperament.

The above is the opinion of Gath, that rampant Republican correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer. It is the conclusion of a letter in Thursday's issue wherein he reviews the situation in New York. It is not very comforting to the Republicans. The fact of the matter is that the Democrats are making a winning fight, and the outlook is growing brighter every day.

Republican Vote for Cleveland.

Undoubtedly a large Republican vote will be cast for Cleveland and Thurman on the 6th of November. Thousands and thousands of them believe in tariff reform, and they know their party has abandoned them and gone off after "free whisky and cheap tobacco." Among the many who have declared their intention of voting for Cleveland is a prominent New York manufacturer of carpets. He voted for Blaine four years ago. In an interview with the New York Commercial Advertiser he said:

"I am a Republican. I have not turned Democrat and I'm not a mugwump, which I understand to be a Republican who holds because of his disapproval of a particular candidate. But I am working and voting for Cleveland this year on the tariff reform issue. I believe in low taxes and, as a manufacturer, I know the necessity of free raw materials. I buy carpets and wool and make carpets. I can't use American wools because they are too fine for carpets. I must buy imported wools or be run out of business, and the duty I pay on my wool goes into the price of my carpets of course. I want to sell carpets as cheap as I can, and my customers want to buy as cheap as they can. But for the duty on carpet wools I could sell carpets much cheaper here, which would be a good thing for American users of carpets, and I could sell carpets anywhere as cheap as foreign weavers can. With free carpet wool I could and would make more carpets and sell them for less, with as good a profit as I make now, and I'd employ a good many more men, let me tell you. Yes, I'm a Republican, but I'm in favor of a rational revision of the tariff in the interest of the manufacturers, consumers and workingmen, and I'm voting for Cleveland on principle."

Paynter Takes Well in Robertson.

The Mt. Olivet Democrat pays the Democratic nominee a deserved compliment. It says: "Hon. Thomas H. Paynter passed through here the other day on his way to Blue Licks and remained some hours. He is quite a fine specimen of manhood, a pleasant talker, and one of the best mixers we ever saw. He took well among our people, even with our strongest Republicans, who had something pleasant to say of him after he had gone."

"In honoring such a candidate with a vote, the voter honors himself, and every Democrat in the county should do his 'level best' to make him our Congressman."

Information for the Colored Voter.

William Lloyd Garrison, son of the grand old abolitionist, has come out for Cleveland and Thurman in a speech in New York. Garrison is a man who always made principle his guiding star. The black slave having been emancipated, he now seeks to emancipate the slaves of all colors who groan under the burden of unjust and unnecessary tariff taxes. He is, therefore, for Cleveland and the tariff reform principles proclaimed in his last annual message.—Minneapolis Star.

The Philadelphia Sentinel, the organ of the colored people, praises Cleveland's letter of acceptance. It says: "When the people read a simple straightforward letter, dealing in affairs that touch their particular interests in the most vital points, couched in language intelligible to all grades of understanding, they will easily discern the honest and earnest endeavors to have the Government administered in accordance with their welfare and be conscious of the willfulness of a blind partisanship that would sacrifice the best interest of the country to the success of the party. Mr. Cleveland's letter will be among the best campaign literature the Democrats will have to circulate."

It will not be long until Republican leaders will howl about the colored vote. So many negroes are going to vote for Cleveland that the "color line" is likely to be entirely removed from the sacred precincts of the Republican camp. The time may yet come when radical Republicans will want to disfranchise the negro. Stranger things have happened. It looks as though nearly all the negro voters in New York were solid for Cleveland. The Age warns Republicans leaders that unless something is done to prevent it nearly all the New York negroes will vote the Democratic Presidential ticket.—Exchange.

A Splendid Performance.

Miss Lillian Lewis and company scored a decided success at the opera house last night. Her rendition of "Lena Despard" in the drama "As In a Looking-Glass" was a magnificent piece of acting throughout. The audience was not such, in point of numbers as the distinguished actress deserved, but all who were present unite in unbounded praise of her. Her every move is natural, her gestures graceful, her costumes rich, and in her rendition of the character of "Lena Despard," we believe it would be impossible almost to find any one who could surpass her.

At the close of the three last acts she was called before the curtain by the applause with which the house resounded. This is Miss Lewis' second visit here and she has established herself as a favorite with Maysville theater-goers.

Her support last night was excellent. Especially is this true of Miss Bessie Taylor as "Felicie," Lawrence Marston as "Algernon Balfour," Alfred W. Fremont as "Captain Jack Fortinbras" and Alexander Randolph as "Paul Drominoff." The rest did well.

The company appears this afternoon in the comedy "An Unequal Match" and to-night in "Fron Frou."

The statement is made on reliable authority that Governor Porter admits that Mr. Harrison can not carry Indiana. Pshaw! The Democrats have known that from the start.

Fashion Notes.

(New York Sun.)

The white petticoat is a thing of the past.

The most fashionable women wear no bustles.

Jacket fronts are a feature in the new tea gowns.

Fur will be much used in trimming winter gowns.

Few feathers are seen on the dressiest fall bonnets.

Smocked frocks are as popular as ever for little girls.

The more fashionable the woman the smaller is her bustle.

Strings of bonnets come from the very back, not the ears, this season.

The tendency of fashion in feminine attire is to the plastic, classic style.

An Important Announcement.

About six weeks ago, while at business, I was suddenly attacked with excruciating pains in my feet, knees and hands. So severe the attack that I took my bed immediately, and in two or three days my joints were swollen to almost double their natural size, and sleep was driven from me. After suffering the most excruciating pain for a week, using liniments and various other remedies, a friend who sympathized with my helpless condition, said to me:

"Why don't you get Swift's Specific and use it? I will guarantee a cure, and if it does not the medicine shall cost you nothing." I at once secured the S. S. S., and after using it the first day, had a quiet night and refreshing sleep. In a week I felt greatly benefited. In three weeks I could sit up and walk about the room, and after using six bottles I was out and able to go to business. Since then I have been regularly at my post of duty, and stand on my feet from nine to ten hours a day, and am entirely free from pain. These are the plain and simple facts in my case, and I will cheerfully answer all inquiries relative thereto, either in person or by mail.

THOMAS MARKILLIE,
11 W. 15th street, New York City.

NASHVILLE, TENN.—I have ward off a severe attack of rheumatism by a timely resort to Swift's Specific. In all cases where a permanent relief is sought this medicine commands itself for a constitutional treatment that thoroughly eradicates the seeds of disease from the system.

JOE T. COLLIER,
New York, 51 7th Ave.—After spending $200 to be relieved of Blood Poison without any benefit, a few bottles of Swift's Specific effected a perfect cure.

VIENNA, GA.—My little girl, aged six, and boy, aged four years, had scrofula in the worst aggravated shape. They were puny and sickly. Today they are healthy and robust, all the result of taking S. S. S.

LADY LAKE, SOUTHERN CO., TEX.—Your S. S. S. has proved a wonderful success in my case. The cancer on my face, no doubt, would have soon hurried me to my grave. I do think it is wonderful and has no equal.

B. H. BYRD, Postmaster,
WACO, TEXAS, May 9, 1888.

S. S. Co., Atlanta, Ga.:—Gentlemen—Knowing that you appreciate voluntary testimonials, we take pleasure in stating that one of our lady customers has regained her health by the use of four large bottles of your great remedy, after having been an invalid for several years. Her trouble was extreme debility, caused by a disease peculiar to her sex. WILLIS & Co., Druggists.

JOB PRINTING of every description neatly executed at the BULLETIN OFFICE.

THOSE DIARY EXTRACTS.

PRINCE BISMARCK MAKES PUBLIC HIS OPINION OF THEM.

He Says They are Incorrect and Wants the Publisher Prosecuted—Who Will Govern Afghanistan When the Amir Dies—A Russian Holocaust—Notes.

BERLIN, Sept. 29.—The text of Prince Bismarck's report on the reputed diary of the Emperor Frederick is as follows:

"I do not consider the diary in the form published genuine. The crown prince in 1876 did not share in political discussions. I did not have the king's permission to discuss with the crown prince the more intimate questions of our policy, because the king feared it might lead to indiscretions at the English court and harm our relations with the German Federal allies. It seems as if the daily notes, or at any rate their later elaboration, were the work of some person in the crown prince's entourage.

"Testing the diary's accuracy, especially remarkable is the chronological error made in referring to a warm discussion between myself and the crown prince, regarding the future of Germany and the relations between the emperor and the German princes as occurring at Versailles. This conversation occurred on September 3 at Donchierie.

"The assertion in the diary that the crown prince entertained the idea of using force against our Federal allies and violating treaties, is a calumny against our departed sovereign. Just as little in accordance with the facts is what the diary says concerning my attitude toward the imperial question in 1866. The crown prince doubted whether imperial federation would have been possible, or even useful in 1866.

"The declaration of the pope's infallibility was always regarded by me with indifference. This was less the case with the crown prince. I considered it a false move on the part of the pope, and I begged the crown prince to let the question rest, at least during the war. The crown prince could never have had that impression nor entered that statement in his diary. I pursued the question after the war. In view of these facts I do not consider the diary published in the Deutsche Rundschau genuine. Therefore I pray your majesty to empower me to instruct the minister of justice to order a public prosecution."

The Freisinnige Zeitung thinks that Prince Bismarck's memory is more likely to be mistaken than the written notes of the diary, and the purpose of the prosecution is understood to be to get at the party who revealed the contents of the diary. That is supposed to be the object of the prosecution.

Who Will Govern Afghanistan?

LONDON, Sept. 29.—The feeble condition of the amir of Afghanistan's health gives rise to various conjectures as to what disposition would be made of the country which he ruled in the event of his death. Many believe that it would be the cause of a strife between Russia and England, while others think that a fair division could be made of Afghanistan which would satisfy both countries. It is known that some members of the British cabinet favor a bold policy, and advocate an advance upon Candahar and an annexation of Afghanistan to India.

It is claimed in behalf of this forward policy that nothing has contributed so much to establish England's authority in India as the belief of the natives that the British government could protect both India and Afghanistan from all comers, and that the surrender of the latter country to Russia without so much as a struggle would sink English prestige in the east beyond retrieving. When the present amir dies the floodgates of Afghan turbulence will be let loose upon his successor, which will give the enterprising generals whom the czar has left with a free hand on the border of his empire, the opportunity they seek to invade Afghanistan, and make a bold bid for Herat.

Russia has the advantage of being over a week ahead of England in the matter of obtaining news from Herat or Cabul, and can keep in readiness to seize the first opportunity that offers for interference in Afghan affairs. An opinion prevails in a small circle of politicians and even among a few Tory members, who are at present in town, that Lord Salisbury, expecting assistance from the central European alliance, will adopt the forward policy with a view to distracting attention from home, and especially Irish affairs, and establishing the government more firmly in power. It is believed that such an action would meet with the heartiest approval at the hands of the English public generally.

Russia is Urged to Worry England.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 29.—The party of action is urging the government to interfere in Afghanistan by the Ishak Kahn movement spreads. The Pan-Slavist papers contend that since the Indian government keeps advancing forces close to the Afghan frontier, Russia has a right to maintain a force on the frontier of the province of Herat.

Moreover Russia will try and promote trouble for England with China on account of the war of aggression which England is waging against Tibet. It is to avoid this that England has ordered the expedition which defeated the Tibetans to return to Gathong in Sikkim. She desires to appear to act wholly on the defensive. When Russia begins to actively badger England in India it may be assumed that the former is about to undertake a diplomatic move in the Balkans.

Officers Scoff at the Idea.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—The new phase given to the mystery of the Whitechapel murders in the disclosures of the coroner in regard to the American who desired to purchase from the curator of the Pathological museum specimens of uterus, has awakened interest in the subject. Although the officials of Scotland Yard affect to sneer at the coroner's story and seem to be apathetic regarding what every one else considered a fresh clue, it is doubtful if the officers have taken the trouble to cable to the New York police department to learn anything about the alleged American. The newspapers are unanimous in the opinion that the coroner's story ought to be thoroughly investigated, and the matter given the greatest possible attention.

The New York's Third Trip.

QUEENSTOWN, Sept. 29.—The Innan line steamship of New York arrived here after a passage of seven days and twenty-three hours. Her circulating pumps were defective, as she was able to use only the star-board engine. For four days the steamer met with continuous gales, during which two passengers were thrown to the deck, and sustained broken ribs. During the tumult which was occasioned by the storms, the passengers were greatly frightened.

Sixteen People Burned to Death.

CROONSTADT, Sept. 29.—A lofty wooden tenement filled with people hurried here with great loss of life. The stairways were destroyed before the inmates could escape, and many leaped into the street from the windows and were mortally injured by falling on the stones. Sixteen who could not escape were burned to death in the house.

Sunk in Danger.

SUAKIN, Sept. 29.—Thursday evening the rebels, under the cover of darkness, succeeded in intrenching at a point 500 yards to the right and in front of the water forts. A reconnaissance disclosed the fact that their position is strongly defended with guns and that the water forts are in danger.

Foreign Notes.

In Conservative circles the emperor is credited with the statement that Count Herbert Bismarck will be the future director of Germany's foreign policy.

Sagua and Cardenas newspapers of Cuba, say there is no exaggeration in estimating the losses caused by the recent tornado at over $5,000,000 in these districts alone.

The latest advices from Samon state that Mileto's partisans had pursued Tamesal's followers from neutral territory to Vallito, and that a battle was imminent.

The confession of a drunken bricklayer named Fitzgerald, that he is the murderer of one of the Whitechapel victims, is not credited, although no reason has as yet developed for making such a confession.

Henry M. Stanley's interpreter, Farran, has signed a statement withdrawing the charges of undue severity made by him against the late Maj. Bartlett. Farran admits that he was actuated by spite in bringing the accusations.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

Troy, O., Old Fellows dedicated their new hall.

Albemarle, Va., grape growers are getting good prices for their grapes at the wine-cellar.

The Virginia Nail and Iron Works company have blown in their new coke furnace at Lynchburg, Va.

Adelbert Boyer was sentenced to the penitentiary for life at Monticello, Ind., for the murder of John Keppert.

The Right Rev. Bishop Dwenger, of the Fort Wayne diocese, has left for Rome, where he will have a special audience with the pope.

At Indianapolis Albert Eaton was arrested for the murder of Thomas Connaughton, which has been a two-year-old mystery.

In the Great Serpent mound near Hillsboro, O., five skeletons were found lying in the form of a star, each one inclosed in a stone box.

The Plain city, O., bank has closed and depositors' hopes and finances grow beautifully less as the comparison of assets and liabilities proceeds.

By the swamping of a flat-boat on the Missouri river, near Glasgow, Mo., three men—James Holloway, Samuel Denham and J. C. Brown—were drowned.

After three days spent at Marion, Ind., looking over the field, the soldiers' home commission left for the east, without announcing their decision.

At Toledo, O., a kindly farmer lent a stranger $900 to pay charges on his trunk. The farmer is penniless and sored on all mankind; stranger nowhere.

George Koontz, the youth who was arrested at Massillon, Ohio, charged with committing four burglaries, pleaded guilty yesterday and was sent to jail in default of $500 bond.

The Lafayette, Ind., council has adopted an ordinance throwing the gates of the city wide open to any individual, company or corporation that desires to bring natural gas to the city.

Augustus Stewart, William Reed, George Halcomb and John Marriener were hurried under a falling gravel bank near Mayfield, Ky. Stewart and Reed were killed and the others probably fatally injured.

In the Webster, Ky., circuit court Tom Hughes, colored, was sentenced to a term of twenty years in the penitentiary for rape, and Jordan Caldwell was sentenced to seven years for the same crime.

Two men, one about thirty-five years and the other about eighteen years of age, who have not been identified, were run over and killed by a New York & New England railroad train, near Hyde Park, Mass.

The discovery of human bones buried near the Lebanon house, Lebanon, O., has revived the chestnut, made to fit such occasions, about a wealthy man being murdered for his money way back in the misty past.

While fireworks were being set off at a Republican rally at Chelsea, Mass., a bomb was accidentally discharged into the crowd, seriously injuring four persons. Henry Ah Foon, a Chinaman, was one of the victims.

"Tis better to have loved and lost than never to have loved at all." These are the sentiments of Mrs. Mollie Corwin, of Shelbyville, Ind., who has five divorced husbands scattered over the country, and whose sixth is about to escape.

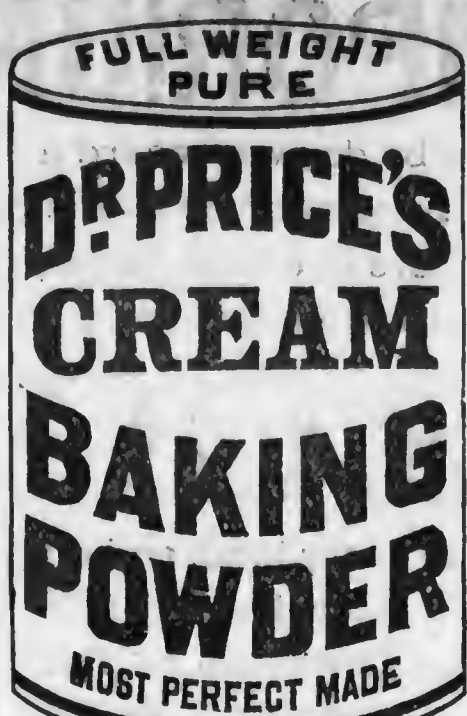

A St. Louis syndicate, headed by Col. R. J. Hunter, the well known cattle-dealer, with a capital of $2,000,000, has purchased 6,000 acres of coal lands, eighty miles from Fort Worth, Tex., near the line of the Texas & Pacific railway.
